

West of Scotland Boat Jumble

(FORMERLY THE SCOTTISH BOAT JUMBLE)

Once again the end-of-season West of Scotland Boat Jumble will be at the Scottish Maritime Museum wharf on Irvine's Harbourside. The date to note is Sunday 4 October 2015 with the gates opening at 10am.

We're all hoping for good weather, but if you need a break you can enjoy food and refreshments in the shelter of the excellent on-site Puffers restaurant.

If you need rope, fittings, fenders, oars, fishing gear or the choice of a multitude of other bits and pieces, then Irvine Harbourside is where you need to be on the first Sunday in October. This is the ideal opportunity to stock up on those essentials for the winter lay up.

It's also a great opportunity for clubs/individuals to organise a stall selling surplus gear at the end of the season. With 5x5m pitches available for £30 and 5x 2.5m car boot spaces for £20, this could be a money-earner for club funds/individuals.

Entry Prices

Entry is £4 for adults, with accompanied children (under 16) free. Entry to the Boat Jumble also allows same day entry to the local Scottish Maritime Museum sites at half the usual price. There's some impressive stuff to see in the Linthouse Building and on the harbour pontoons.

Directions

Travelling to the venue is extremely easy. By road follow the signs to Irvine Harbourside and then the directions to the Boat Jumble. Free car parking is available in the nearby Maritime Museum yard (there is a pick-up point just outside the Boat Jumble gates where all heavy items purchased can be collected). Irvine Railway Station is within 5 minutes walk and a local bus service stop is across the road from the venue. Full directions and map are available on our website www.wsbj.co.uk
